

Languages of National Socialism

9.00 Elisabetta Vezzosi (Head of the Department): Institutional Greetings

Riccardo Martinelli (Trieste): Opening Remarks

Chair: Tullia Catalan (Trieste)

9.30 George Leaman (Charlottesville, VA): Languages of "National Socialism": From Reactionary Apocalypse to Social Media Clickbait

10.15 Stefan Scholl (Paderborn): Navigating through Discourses of Belonging: Letters of Complaint and Request during National Socialism

11.00 Coffee break

11.20 PhD Posters:

Andrea Sain (Trieste): Nicolai Hartmann and National Socialism. Necessity and Destiny; Irene Candelieri (Trieste): The Berliner Phonogramm-Archiv during the National Socialism: Research, Functions, Distorsions?

Paolo Felluga (Trieste): The Economic Persecution of the Jews in the Local Press in Occupied Europe. A Comparison between Le Matin de Paris and Il Piccolo di Trieste (1940-1945)

Discussion and Concluding Remarks: Tullia Catalan (Trieste)

Afternoon

Chair: Irene Candelieri (Trieste)

14.30 René Moehrle (Trier): The Discrepancy of National Socialist Language and Realpolitik on the Example of Deutsche Adria Zeitung (DAZ) and Adria Illustrierte (AI) 1943-1945

15.15 Sidonie Kellerer (Köln): Heidegger's Expression "Invisible War" (1939) in its Historical Context

16.00 Coffee break

16.15 Stefano Poggi (Florence): Linguaggio e retorica. Tra due guerre: i filosofi tedeschi e il destino

Discussion and Concluding Remarks: Paolo Labinaz (Trieste)

*** **